

SYSTEMIC Constellations FORUM Stockholm May 20-22, 2016

A Teaching Seminar, and a full day of Supervision
With Guni Baxa, Austria

Our connection to the “tribal soul” Blessings, gifts and entanglements

In all things there is the potential of love and maybe it is our life’s mission to be aware of it.

Our lives seem to be deeply influenced by experiences of the communities and collectives we belong to. On the one hand these roots connect us with their gifts and blessings. On the other hand we are often involved in unseen and unhealed wounds and binding beliefs. We carry them — mostly unconsciously — in physical symptoms, behavioral difficulties or other problems.

The seminar offers the possibility to approach these larger fields, the “tribal soul”, in a healing way. We acknowledge and receive their gifts and blessings. In the same time we let go of constricting traditions, religions and beliefs. We can go beyond by transforming them into a powerful internal base and by connecting with nourishing universal qualities such as love, forgiveness, courage, fulfillment, peace, joy, serenity, wisdom, stillness

Teaching Seminars are open to therapists, counsellors, consultants, coaches and others with basic knowledge of systemic constellation work.

Supervision is open for system therapists, counsellors and consultants.

Seminars and Supervision will be held in English.

Supervision Day:

Supervision for Professionals in Constellation Work

The supervision day is open to participants who use systemic constellations in their practice, both one-to-one and in groups. During this day participants may present client cases (both individuals and couples) or bring a personal issue to be high lightened. There will be room for questions regarding the work and possibly small group work.

Guni Baxa has a wide experience with supervision.
